THREATENED COMPLICATIONS IN SENATE DISAPPEAR

Republicans Decide to Accept Assurances of the Administration as to Sufficiency of Troops in Mexico.

Pershing Announces the Establishment of a New Base—Last One Nearer Reported Location of Bandit.

Evidence That Villa Is Preparing for Battle and That Mexican People Are Not Rallying to His Support,

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, March 27.—Threatened complications in the Mexican situation disappeared today when senate Republicans decided to accept the Administration's assurances that sufficient troops were on the border for the protection of American interests, and it was determined not to carry out the agitation for more troops at this time. Major General Funston's dispatch revealed no new developments in the pursuit of Villa, and reports from naval vessels on both coasts of Mexico disclosed nothing disquieting.

General Carranza's ambassador, Elio Arredondo, at the direction of his chief presented to Secretary Lansing some proposals to broaden the protocol covering the joint pursuit of the Villa bandits.

The proposals will be studied by Secretary Lansing before he again confers with the ambassador. The protocol suggested by Carranza was designed to cover the use of Mexican railways by American troops in pursuit of Villa, and would provide a working agreement under which instructions could be issued by both governments to the military commanders to cover any contingency.

Details of the new proposals will not be made public until Secretary Lansing has reviewed them. It is believed General Carranza will make no answer at present to the specific request for permission to ship supplies over the Mexican Northwestern Railroad to American troops.

Apparently it is Carranza's purpose to grant the request under the terms of the protocol, when it shall have been completed and signed.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Field Headquarters American Expeditionary Force, Colonia Dublan, Mexico, by aeroplane to Columbus, New Mexico, March 27.—Evidence that Francisco Villa is preparing to resist the American pursuing columns, and that the Mexican people are not as yet rallying to him, has been collected by the officers and men of the American troops.

General Pershing announced last night the establishment of a new base in the pursuit of Villa. The second base is much nearer the location where the bandit is reported in retreat than the old base headquarters.

USE OF RAILROADS

Associated Press Dispatch. San Antonio, Texas, March 27.—Permission is granted soon the shipment of supplies over one of the Mexican railroads to the American troops, the pursuit of Villa may be seriously retarded. It was explained at department headquarters today that the lengthening lines of communication along heavy trails had made it practically impossible to deliver supplies by auto truck, and that a serious shortage of grain for horses and mules had been experienced.

FLYING COLUMN PURSUDES VILLA

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, March 27.—Flying columns of American cavalry are today seeking to entrap Francisco Villa and his band by sealing up all the trails and passes in the mountainous district south of El Valle.

With the outlets barred, squadrons of cavalry and detachments of infantry operating from the base near Casas Grandes will comb the country to drive the bandit into the open.

Villa and his men are reported moving rapidly through the foothills of the Sierra Mountains, hotly pursued by three columns of American cavalry under Colonel Dodd.

The reports that Villa escaped the Carranza troops now seem certain.

COLUMBUS MENACED BY FLOODS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., March 27.—Spring rains caused a sudden rise in streams throughout Ohio today, and in several localities serious floods were threatened.

At 1:30 this afternoon, the Scioto River here had reached 19 feet, within one foot of flood stage, and was rising four tenths of a foot an hour.

The Weather Bureau declared that there was no danger of a serious flood.

However, residents of the West Side continued to move from their homes during the day.

Governor Willis and Adjutant General Hough went to the river at noon to ascertain the situation.

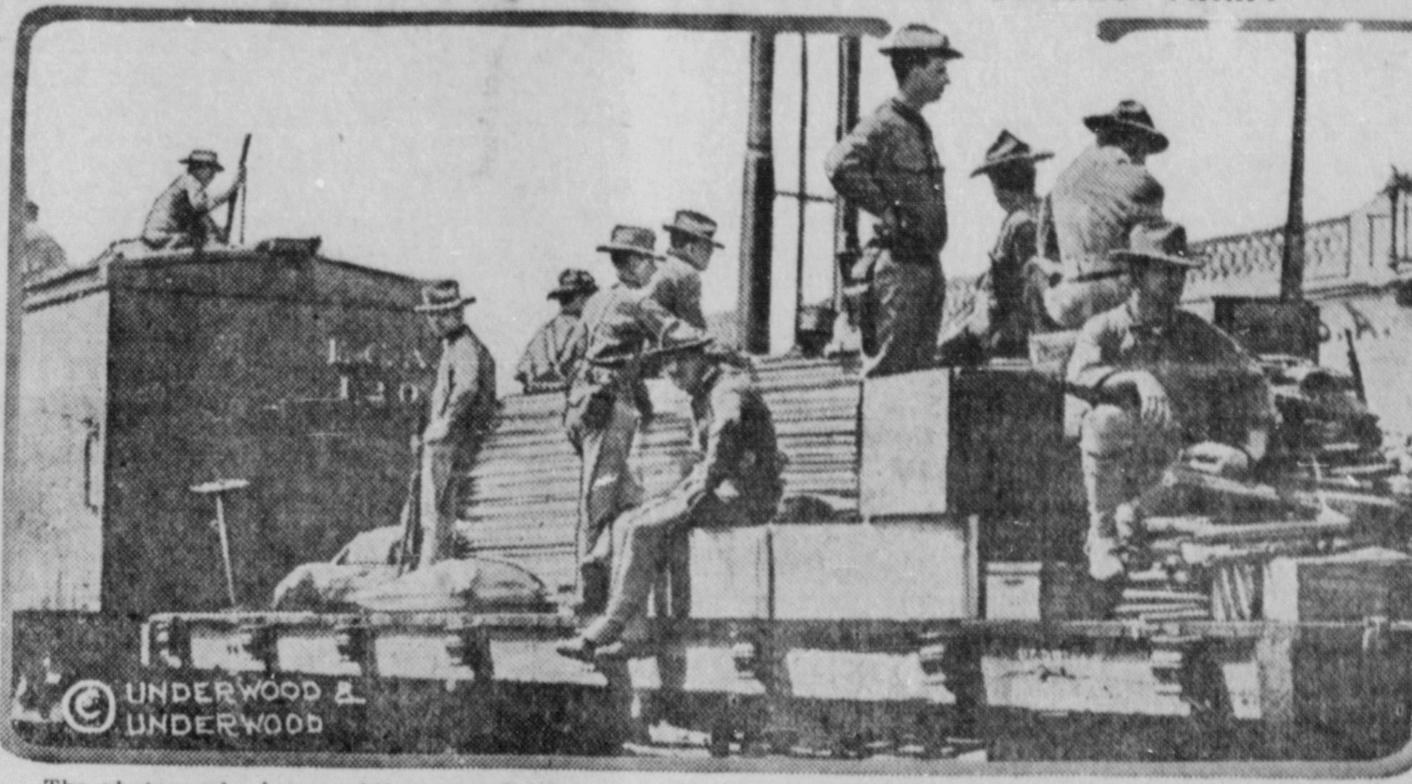

Reports from Dayton indicated a big rise in the Miami River, but no danger is anticipated.

The Ohio River at Cincinnati is at 41 feet, but only a small rise is anticipated.

The Maumee River at Toledo is one foot above its normal stage and lowlands are flooded.

At Findlay, the Blanchard River is rising steadily, several hundred acres of lowland already being under water.

Refugees at this city began to invade the state capital building this afternoon and prepared to spend the night there if the river does not recede.

Columbus, O., March 27.—The Weather Bureau here issued a warning today that the Scioto River may reach the 20-foot stage here within the next twelve hours. This would be one foot under flood stage.

On the west side of the city where the 1913 flood did much damage, some families were reported to be moving their household goods to higher ground.

UNEASY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, March 27.—The submarine situation is again becoming grave, American officials believe.

The breaking of diplomatic relations with Germany is considered as one of the possibilities, if it is shown that the steamers Sussex and Englishman were submarine victims.

Officials say they can come to no conclusion until they have all the facts.

However, there is uneasiness over the possibility that German submarines have renewed their activities against passenger ships in violation of assurances given the United States.

The front between Douaumont and Vaux is bearing the brunt of the attack.

The infantry has not been employed in this region nor elsewhere along the Franco-Belgian front, so far as the official reports show.

The Balkan theater of war is attracting renewed attention by reason of the increasing activities north of Saloniki, where skirmishing between Teutonic allies and Entente forces that has been proceeding for some days is now apparently taking the form of a general attack against the Franco-British lines.

It is not believed in Entente circles in Athens, however, that a serious attempt at the capture of Saloniki is intended.

Berlin declares that Saturday's

GERMAN PROMISE RELIEVES TENSION

It is authoritatively stated that if Germany is shown that sinking of Sussex was due to submarine attack,

Commander will be punished and every endeavor made to satisfy United States.

Washington, March 27.—It was stated authoritatively here today that should it be shown that a German submarine attacked the Sussex, Germany would disavow the act, offer reparation, punish the submarine commander and satisfy the United States that the act was in violation of instructions.

It was also stated authoritatively that the German Ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, was mainly responsible for the recent retirement of Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, who is understood to have been eliminated because of his views on submarine warfare, after Count von Bernstorff had made certain recommendations to the Imperial Chancellor Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg.

London, March 27.—No Americans lost their lives when the steamer Sussex was blown up in the English Channel last Friday, according to latest reports.

The American Embassy in Paris has accounted for all the Americans reported missing.

Several Americans were injured, three of them seriously.

It has not yet been definitely established whether the vessel was damaged by a mine or a torpedo.

FRENCH LOSE

(Associated Press Cable) Berlin, March 27.—Reports have been received from Athens that a French transport with troops on board from Saloniki had struck a mine and sunk, seventy-three persons being rescued, the Overseas News Agency says.

ATTORNEY GENERAL GIVES OPINION ON DRAGGING OF ROADS

In response to inquiry made by Prosecutor Watts, of Highland county where agitation for bringing about road dragging as provided by law has been under way, Attorney General Turner has held that it is imperative that all roads be dragged except those recently rebuilt and under state supervision.

The question submitted by Prosecutor Watts was:

"Are the township trustees required under Section 3375 G. C., to drag county and state roads as defined by Section 7464 G. C. provided they are gravelled roads and the county commissioners and the state highway department required to drag any roads."

In answer to this inquiry the attorney general gave the following opinion:

"I advise you, in answer to your specific question, that it is the duty of the township highway superintendent, under section 3375 G. C. to divide all the graveled and unimproved public roads of the township into road dragging districts, which must include all mail routes and main traveled roads within the township which are graveled or unimproved, and that in exercising this duty the township highway superintendent should take into consideration all graveled and unimproved public roads, whether they be county roads, township roads or state roads, and must include in the road dragging districts all mail routes and main traveled roads which are graveled or unimproved, without reference to whether such roads be state roads, county roads, or township roads. County commissioners are undoubtedly authorized to drag certain roads, and the same may also be said of the state highway commissioner, but the duty of dragging all graveled and unimproved roads rests primarily on the township authorities, and this duty is not limited to roads of any particular class but extends to all graveled and unimproved roads."

Sheriff Jones also served summons on Verner Taylor of Bloomingburg, suit having been filed in Franklin county and the amount claimed is $5800.

PIONEER ON PAVING STILL HAS FEVER

The following communication relative to the first paved street in this city, is from a recent issue of the Wilmington Journal:

Wilmington, O., March 20. Editor Journal-Republican:

Your very interesting articles on good roads cause me to think that I might give my experiences with paving streets with brick. In January, 1887, I began canvassing for consents of abutting property owners on three blocks, in Washington C. H., that I was trying to get paved with vitrified paving brick. It was the first "job" I knew of in Southern Ohio, and Oh, I did have a severe and lengthy canvass, ere I got consent of the property owners.

Finishing my canvass about July, 1887, I in connection with the City Engineer, met Council, and they at once took hold of the paving and advertised for bidders under my petition, and contract was let. It was finished in September, or October, 1887, and today, after twenty-eight years, the paving is as good as the day we finished it, or at least, with two or three exceptions, where Council allowed the gas or water companies to tear up the streets to lay new pipe to accommodate their patrons. Any time you are there, you can see the work, as it was done on Court street, through the business part of the town.

Since then, they have laid more than fifty blocks of paved streets and are helping to pave four or five country roads with brick. They got the fever, and now the bad roads they have had to endure for the last three months have made the fever worse. I say, let the good work go on. We all need them and most everybody wants them and especially everybody who has an automobile.

On Today Depends Tomorrow

Some days ago attention was directed to the fact that Washington people have enjoyed a number of high class, interesting and instructive entertainments during the past winter. It is a pleasure to look back once in a while and contemplate the good things we have enjoyed and check up, so to speak, the real benefits which a community derives from such advantages.

The pleasure a review of the past season affords is increased when we realize that Washington is a small city as cities go and the advantages, in the way of entertainments have been extraordinary in quality and quantity and the program far more pretentious than cities many times the size of Washington have dared or cared to attempt.

One of the most forceful agencies in creating this demand for the higher and better things is the public school work. The splendid new auditorium in the high school building has been the place of a great deal, which was elevating, in the line of entertainments.

The educational course which creates a demand for the better things and an abhorrence of the frivolous and lowering has been adopted and has borne fruit.

Judging from the very marked good taste of pupils, the executives in charge of the city schools have performed their difficult tasks well.

The advance made by the Washington schools, in every way, during the past half dozen years has been really remarkable.

The one thing, above all others, which should be kept on a high plane of efficiency is the public schools. The question of cost, so long as it is in proportion to the results attained, is not one of any considerable consequence.

Cheap schools—poorly paid executives and teachers—is about the most costly folly a community can be guilty of committing.

No community can afford to let down—to cheapen—its public schools. They are the builders for future generations. Upon the morals of the boys and girls of today, as developed in the schools, depends the intellectual and moral fibre of the men and women—the community—of tomorrow.

The Southern Way

One of our fellow townsmen, W. M. Mitchener, a native of the south, is in receipt of a copy of The Nashville Banner, published in that flourishing commercial city the capital of Tennessee.

Nashville, it will be remembered, only last week was swept by flames. Many hundreds of the homes of people in the poorer walks of life were destroyed. Many homes of the middle classes and the wealthier classes were also consumed by the hungry flames. In almost every instance the household goods were totally destroyed. It was the greatest disaster, from a money standpoint, that Nashville has ever suffered.

The Banner contains excellent accounts of the fire and splendid pictures showing the devastating work of the flames.

But it is the advertising which appears in the Banner which furnishes the true index to and the positive proof of the splendid generosity, open-hearted and free-handed neighborliness and sympathy which has made the south and the southern people so lovable.

MERCHANTS are carrying all sorts of advantageous offers to assist those who lost in the fire. One advertisement of Howse Bros. Furniture Store—displays a remarkably generous offer.

One paragraph reads:

"To all customers of ours who owe us a balance and who suffered the loss of their furniture in yesterday's conflagration, we wish to say that their present account will be cancelled, and that they can get a receipt in full by calling at our store or sending us their present address."

Columns could be written about what the advertised offer stands for. It is the embodiment of practical Christianity, community efficiency and real generosity.

When it comes to doing things right with no strings attached we must all acknowledge that the people of the south know how and act accordingly. They act from the real generous impulse that comes from the heart.

THREE SEAPLANES LOST

Escorting Force of Destroyers Sinks Two German Patrol Vessels, but a British Destroyer is Lost During the Engagement—Operations in Northern France and on the Eastern and Italian Battle Fronts.

London, March 27.—England has given her first effective answer to German air raids. A squadron of five seaplanes, conveyed by light cruisers and destroyers, crossed the North sea and went straight to the home of the German planes which have frequently visited the English coast of late. They visited the English coast of late. They attacked the German airship sheds in Schleswig-Holstein, eastward of the Island of Sylt. The seaplanes were conveyed to their rendezvous close to the German coast by an escorting force of light cruisers and destroyers under Commodore Tyrwhitt.

"Three of the seaplanes which took part in the attack are missing. The British destroyer Medusa was in collision with the destroyer Laverock and it is feared that in the stormy weather which prevailed the Medusa may have been lost. Two German armed patrol vessels were sunk by our destroyers. No detailed report has yet been received, but from Danish press messages it would appear that this operation, which was carried out within the enemy's waters, achieved its object."

The violent bombardment northwest of Verdun in the region of Malancourt continues, while to the north of the fortress and in the Woerre region in the east intermittent cannonading is still in progress. No infantry attacks have been launched by the Germans except to the southeast of Fort Douaumont, where Berlin reports a hand-to-hand encounter with the advantage on the side of the Germans. The French in the Argonne forest are keeping up their bombardments of German positions. Considerable artillery activity on the part of the French also has been shown in the Vosges.

The explosion of a French mine in this region inflicted heavy losses on the French, according to Berlin. The German position was not impaired by the explosion.

On the Russian front, the Germans attempted an offensive in the region of Jacobstadt, but were repulsed, while the Russians captured a German trench in the region of Dvinsk. Here, Berlin says, the Russian attacks broke down.

Storms in the mountain regions of the Austro-Italian lines have impeded operations, but bombardments are continuing on the Isonzo front.

DEATH CLAIMS J. N. VAN DEMAN

Shocking and saddening a large number of relatives and friends in this city came the word Sunday afternoon that J. N. VanDemar, formerly of this city and for some years a prominent lawyer of Dayton, had died at his home in Dayton View at half past one o'clock. Death resulted from the sudden development of pneumonia after an exhaustive attack of double quinsy followed by erysipelas.

Late in the week friends here had learned of Mr. Vandeman's serious illness, but were not prepared for its fatal result.

A man of remarkable vitality and unimpaired vigor, meeting with constantly growing success in his profession, and actively connected with numerous outside interests, his death is one to cause great regret in the city of his adoption as well as in Washington, his home town.

The VanDemar family was identified with Washington's pioneer days and early business enterprises, of which the store of J. L. VanDemar & Co., occupying the corner where the Commercial Bank now stands, was a cornerstone. John N. Vandeman left the established business of his ancestors to study law and was one of the foremost lawyers of this city until fifteen years ago, since which time he has practiced in Dayton. He was president of the Ohio Bar Association last year.

While a resident of Fayette county Mr. Vandeman had been active in Republican politics and continued to be in Montgomery county. He was also prominent in the Presbyterian church and held a number of lodge affiliations, the lodge of his foremost interest being the I. O. O. F., in which he had been representative of Sovereign Grand Lodge and subsequently was elected Grand Chief Patriarch. He also served as the representative of the Grand Lodge.

The removal of the Vandeman family from this city has never ceased to be regretted by the many friends who had so frequently enjoyed the never failing hospitality of the Vandeman home, as well as by the larger acquaintance of the business and professional world. A cordial welcome always awaited their return visits and sympathy now goes out in large measure to the sorrowing home in Dayton.

Mr. Vandeman is survived by a widow and six children, three sons, Fred, Frank and Stanley, and one daughter, Mrs. Bernard Nelms, in New York; Dr. Will Vandeman, in Toledo, and Mrs. John Griswold of Dayton.

Mr. T. M. Ustick is a brother-in-law.

Funeral services will be held at the home in Dayton Tuesday afternoon. The family will bring all that is mortal to this city on the 9:45 C. H. & D. train Wednesday morning, going immediately to the Chapel at the Washington cemetery, where the I. O. O. F. will have charge of a brief service at 10:30; Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage the officiating minister.

ABBREVIATED SHEDS AT SHRUNKEN DEPOT CAUSE AMUSEMENT

Sunday afternoon hundreds of Washington citizens walked "down past" the B. & O. station to see just what the new umbrella sheds we have been hearing so much about, looked like.

Expecting confidently to see quite a respectable stretch of sheds extending from the depot east along the B. & O. tracks and south along the D. T. & I. tracks thus compensating for the abbreviated depot, people were compelled to search out the little sheds in front of the station building or have them pointed out by others who were familiar with the hiding place.

The first sensation was one of disappointment, succeeded in turn by amusement and later by a realization that if the engines on west bound trains were stopped just exactly right the engineer would be directly under the sheds while oiling his engine.

But the Dutch Treat Club has been busy and Chairman Worthington is in receipt of a letter from Third Vice-President Thompson, "the man who does things," assuring him that the present sheds will be replaced with sheds one hundred feet in length.

COMPANY M HAS NEW EQUIPMENT

Company M has received additional equipment for active service, recently, and now is almost as completely equipped as the regulars.

The new equipment includes a supply of ugly bolo knives, one for each odd-numbered squad. These knives have very heavy blades some 12 inches in length, and are used in chopping away branches of trees, light wire, and clearing a way generally.

Nine wire cutters, most of which are equipped with insulated handles so that a wire containing 5,000 volts of electricity can be cut as if it were an ordinary wire. One will be carried by each squad.

The company now has 21 intrenching shovels, seven pick-mattocks, four hand axes, semaphore outfits and complete wig-wag equipment. Each officer, Sergeant and musician carry whistles and watch-compasses, as well as other equipment deemed necessary for field service, and not carried by the privates.

Company M also has upward of 6,000 rounds of ammunition stored in the armory, with plenty of rifles, pistols, and other paraphernalia in addition to the above.

CROWDS WELCOME NEWS OF BIG BOUT

Several hundred persons gathered in front of The Herald office and packed the offices Saturday night, to receive the news of the Willard-Moran contest for Heavyweight Championship of the world, receiving the news over the Associated Press wires to The Herald.

From three to seven minutes after each blow was struck in New York the news was given by megaphone to the hundreds of persons who eagerly await the result.

HEAVY RAINS FLOOD STREAMS

CREEKS OUT OF BANK AND EAST END OF CITY IS FLOODED BY COMBINATION OPEN DITCH AND SEWER—WHEAT AND GRASS BOOMING.

The rain storms of Sunday and Sunday night brought Fayette county streams out of their banks and flooded the lowlands.

From six p.m. Sunday to six a.m. Monday the rainfall was 2:15 inches.

Highway, which were becoming something like passable once more, were thoroughly saturated and every rut left full of water. However, the rains did much toward filling up with sand and gravel many of the ruts and doing something toward smoothing down the surface—a thing which many trustees are neglecting by failure to drag the roads.

The rain Sunday night was accompanied by electrical storms in various parts of the county, but so far as known the lightning did no damage in the county.

Because of improper drainage the east end of the city, along the notorious east end sewer, was flooded so that it was impossible for many persons to leave their residences without using rubber boots or going over shoetop in the water.

The flood water in the east end is due in a large measure to an open ditch emptying, or trying to empty, into a sewer which is clogged up.

Under the coaxing influence of the warm rains, the wheat and grass have been growing by leaps and bounds.

CATTLE STEALING CASE OPENS TODAY

Samuel Whited, facing a charge of grand larceny, went to Waverly, Monday morning, accompanied by his attorneys, Gregg, Patton & Gregg to be present at the opening of the case against him in that city. Attorney Lee Rankin also went to Waverly, to aid in prosecuting the case.

It is expected that the jury for trying the case will be obtained today.

Tuesday witnesses for the state will be examined, and on the following day witnesses for the defense will flock to Waverly in response to subpoenas served a few days ago.

No case in recent years is expected to attract the attention in Waverly as the case beginning today, and which grows out of the theft of four black cattle near Bainbridge, last fall.

Monday two additional witnesses, Grant DeWitt and Jack DeWitt were subpoenaed on behalf of the defendant, to appear Wednesday.

DEVORE IN JAIL

Darrell Devore is still in the county jail awaiting action of the grand jury, having waived examination to a charge of petit larceny. His bond was fixed at $200.

WANT SIDEWALK ON MILLIKAN AVENUE

It is understood that at the next session of the city council a request will be made for the laying of a concrete sidewalk from the intersection of Paint and Hinde street to the concrete bridge and from the bridge to a point beyond the C. H. & D. railroad, near the Shoe Factory, in order to accommodate the large number of persons who each day make the trip to and from the factories and Millwood.

At the present time pedestrians are compelled to walk in the mud or detour two or three squares to Dayton avenue.

MURDERERS CONFESS KILLING M. C. MURPHY

Ed Marshall and Frank Bennett, negroes arrested for the murder of M. C. Murphy, in Independence, Kansas, brother of Joe C. Murphy of this city, have confessed to their part in the crime, and also implicated Ben Franklin, another colored man.

The men fled immediately after the crime, but were traced down and arrested. Indications are that the trio will get a long term in the Kansas state prison.

SUSSEX SINKING DISTURBS NATION

Affidavits Made By American Survivors.

SAY SHIP WAS TORPEDOED

Believed That One and Possibly Three Americans Perished in the Disaster. Victims Estimated Variously at From Fifty to Eighty—American Woman Thinks Accident Was Caused by a Mine.

Paris, March 27.—That the channel steamer Sussex was torpedoed without warning is the claim made in an official statement issued here. The statement is based on affidavits made by survivors, including Americans.

John Hearley, Albany, N. Y., a press association correspondent, deposes, the statement says, that on Friday about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, while a dozen Americans were watching from the bridge, a great explosion occurred in the forepart of the vessel without warning and that three Americans at least saw the passage of the torpedo. Professor Baldwin, wife and daughter, have disappeared. Hearley thinks they are dead. Tingle W. Culbertson declares that he saw Miss Baldwin stretched on the deck wounded in the head.

Samuel S. Bemis of Harvard university deposes that the explosion occurred without the slightest warning to show there was the least danger and that many persons were thrown into the sea, that some were killed and some wounded, that he saw bodies on the bridge of the Sussex, and that while being rescued he saw two persons drowned.

The total number of victims is still unknown. It is estimated variously at 50 to 80. Of the Americans, it now is regarded as certain that Miss Elizabeth Baldwin was killed. It is believed her father, Professor J. Mark Baldwin, was lost, and that possibly in communication with Dr. Waite while he was in Grand Rapids with Mr. Peck's body, and hurriedly gave up a room at the Hotel Plaza which she and Dr. Waite had taken, and remained in seclusion at the home of Mrs. Dorothy May Van Palmenberg, in West Seventy-second street, until located by detectives.

After his long examination of Mrs. Van Palmenberg, Mr. Dooling got in touch with Frank Waite, brother of the dentist, who, through Lawyer Drew, had asked District Attorney Swann whether or not the state will accept a second degree plea from the accused man.

Mr. Dooling and Frank Waite then went to Bellevue hospital and saw Dr. Waite.

It is known that Miss Catherine Peck, sister of John E. Peck, has said that Dr. Waite will retract his story that he got arsenic for Mr. Peck because Mr. Peck wanted to commit suicide—and did, according to Dr. Waite's story—that she will permit the Waites to spend in Dr. Waite's defense the $10,000, a part of $40,000 Dr. Waite got from Mrs. Waite to invest for her, which Dr. Waite sent to a brother in Grand Rapids.

TAKE IT BACK

(By American Press)

San Francisco, March 27.—Marie Cronan of Larchmont, N. Y., who obtained a divorce in 1910 from Lieutenant Commander William P. Cronan, United States navy, commanding the war vessel Supply, petitioned the courts here to set aside the decree. Mrs. Cronan, through her attorney, cited as grounds for setting aside the decree declaration made by Cronan in testimony before a Washington court that the divorce was obtained through "fraud and collusion."

Cronan has remarried, his present wife being the former Miss Nellie Grant, a granddaughter of the late President U. S. Grant. In the event of the setting aside of the first Mrs. Cronan's decree of divorce, the second marriage would be annulled automatically. Cronan and Miss Grant were married in San Francisco in 1913. They have a daughter ten months old.

FUNSTON EXPECTS ARMY FLIERS TO AID GREATLY IN THE PURSUIT OF VILLA

Photos by American Press Association.

It is the expectation of General Funston that the army aero squadron will be of great service in Mexico in the pursuit of Villa. Captain Benjamin D. Foulois commands the ten officers who comprise the fliers of the squadron and the eighty troopers completing the detachment. The squadron has eight aeroplanes. All of the officers under Captain Foulois, with the exception of Lieutenant A. R. Christie, will go to the front. Most of them are veteran aviators. Some of them participated in the flight of the first aero squadron from Fort Sill, Okla., last November, when the squadron was transferred to Fort Sam Houston. Captain Foulois and Lieutenants J. R. Carberry, T. S. Bowen, L. A. Rader and C. G. Chapman are the present members of the squadrons who made that flight from Fort Sill. Other members are Captain T. T. Dodd and Lieutenants H. A. Dargue, W. G. Gorrell, W. G. Kilner and R. H. Willis. No. 1 Captain Foulois and companion making flight; No. 2, soldiers in Texas army camp watching aviator in distance; No. 3, General John J. Pershing, in command of troops sent to Mexico; Nos. 4 and 5, Captain Foulois making report after a flight and drawing plans for a flight.

JESS WILLARD AND MORAN TALK IT OVER

Latter Believes He Could Win in a Distance Match.

New York, March 27.—While Frank Moran, late challenger for the world's heavyweight title, was entertaining relatives and friends, Jess Willard slipped quietly out of town with his tittle and his accrued gilt.

A strange contrast indeed was presented by these respective gladiators of Saturday night's thrilling ten round glove contest in Madison Square Garden. Moran presented a badly damaged physiognomy. When he moved about the room his step was not so lithe as ordinarily; he could not mask the soreness of muscle and bone.

Willard carried his right hand bandaged, the index finger in splints. "I'll say for Frank Moran," the champion finally declared after much questioning, "that he is a tough, game fellow. I am satisfied I should have knocked Frank out had I not broken my right hand in the second round. But I am perfectly satisfied with the course matters took. Frank, I understand, is still of the opinion that he can beat me in a distance fight. I commend his self-reliance, but for some time to come, at least, he can not hope for satisfaction from me. I shall not fight soon. In a month I go with the circus. Next fall is the earliest I can think of defending the title."

Frank Moran still thinks Willard but a slight obstacle in his path to fame and fortune. "I will be the next world's champion," he snapped. "Willard never once hurt me and he was putting all he had in his punches. I took the smile off his face in that seventh round. I would have put him away right there if the round had lasted one minute more. He had nothing left after that. His punch was gone. Just now Willard is too big and clever defensively for me to beat in ten rounds. But now I'd like to get him for twenty or more. I'll keep on his trail till he gives me satisfaction."

TOOPPOSE PREPAREDNESS

(By American Press)

Washington, March 27.—A party has been organized to tour the country in opposition to preparedness, as advocated by President Wilson. Two distinguished Ohioans, Dr. Washington Gladden and General Isaac R. Sherwood, are among the twelve speakers who are advertised to make this tour. The party will be at Cleveland April 8 and Cincinnati April 15.

You can get it in Washington.

GRANDFATHER TO ANOTHER TOT

(By American Press)

Philadelphia, March 27.—A second granddaughter has been born to President Wilson. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre of Williamstown, Mass., and was born in the Jefferson hospital here. The child has been named Eleanor Axson Sayre, in honor of her maternal grandmother. The president and Mrs. Wilson wired their congratulations and it is expected that Mr. Wilson will make a visit here this week to see his daughter and granddaughter. The Sayres' first child, a son, Francis Woodrow Sayre, was born about eighteen months ago in the White House.

THE GIRL AND THE GAME . . .

A STORY OF MOUNTAIN RAILROAD LIFE
by FRANK H. SPEARMAN

AUTHOR OF "WHISPERING SMITH," "THE MOUNTAIN DIVIDE," "STRATEGY OF GREAT RAILROADS," ETC.

NOVELIZED FROM THE MOVING PICTURE PLAY
OF THE SAME NAME. PRODUCED BY THE SIGNAL
FILM CORPORATION.

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, is rescued from imminent danger on a scenic railroad by George Storm, a cowboy. Grown now to young womanhood, Helen saves Storm, now a fireman, her father, and his friends Amos Rhinelander, financier, and Robert Seagruer, safecracker, from a threatened collision. Safecrackers employed by Seagruer steal General Holmes' survey plans of the cut-off line for the Tidewater, fatally wounding the general and escape. Her father's estate badly involved by his death, Helen goes to work on the detective. Helen recovers the survey plans from Seagruer, and though they are taken from her, finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm is employed by Rhinelander. Spike and his confederate safecrackers steal Rhinelander's pay roll money. Helen pursues and, with a policeman's aid, captures two of them and recovers the money. Spike, befriended by Helen, in his turn saves her and the right-of-way contracts when Seagruer kidnaps her.

THE RACE FOR RIGHT OF WAY

What to do with Spike after he had turned over his first leaf in the book of gratitude proved a difficulty for Helen. But it seemed to her the first thing to be attempted was to get him well away from Seagruer's influence. Seagruer, with the ample backing at his disposal, had established an elaborate construction camp well out on the desert, where he coupled with his railroad building enterprise as much of fraudulent deceit and force as he dare display toward Rhinelander and the men in the Copper Range & Tidewater construction work. The prize for which both roads were playing in the tremendous effort of each to get ahead of the other was a substantial one, and Seagruer was never called to account at his headquarters for his strategy in the construction trenches.

On the morning that Helen took Spike down street to a Las Vegas clothing store, had him fitted out with new clothes and provided him with some pocket money, Seagruer was on his way over to his camp, accompanied by the two strong-arms, known by no more respectable names than Bill and Lug. He saw Helen on the street with Spike and watched the two for a moment. Dispatching Bill then to the garage for his motor car and bidding Lug, on his life, not to lose sight of Spike, Seagruer, himself, hastened to the office of the local sheriff.

Explaining to this official, already made complacent by generous offerings, that he had on his hands a contract laborer who was trying to jump his job, he engaged his promise of vigorous co-operation to bring Spike to time.

Seagruer led the way with him to the machine, which Bill had brought up, and, getting in with the sheriff, Bill drove toward the station. Helen,

VILLA IS HEADED FOR MOUNTAINS

Slips Through the Cordon of Mexican Troops.

GENERAL PERSHING WIRES

Three Columns of American Cavalry Now in Pursuit of the Fox of the Sierras—American Forces as Far South as Chihuahua City—Carrazista Soldiers Not Co-operating With the Americans.

San Antonio, Tex., March 27.—Francisco Villa has escaped from the Mexican troops that had checked him near Namiquipa and three columns of American cavalry are pursuing him. These columns are under Colonel Dodd.

Such is the substance of a report General Funston has received from General Pershing, commander of the American expedition into Mexico.

The bandit, with his men, are heading into the Madera valley, which runs south from the Namiquipa country toward Guadalupe. The Americans are 250 miles below the border and as far south as Chihuahua City.

It was established the Carranzistas are not co-operating with the Americans. General Funston declined to give out the full text of Pershing's message on this point.

General Pershing's complete statement of the location of troops says that three columns of cavalry are following the advance columns as supports, to be called out if needed. Two companies of infantry are at El Valle to protect Pershing's advance base. The principal base is now at Casas Grandes. This means the two companies of foot soldiers have marched 200 miles to the south. Pershing's message said nothing of using a railroad and stated specifically there had been no fighting between the outlaws and Americans.

General Pershing, just before wiring, had completed trip through the country where the foremost troops were. He was not on an "inspection" trip, as some dispatches stated, but went the long way round for tactical purposes. He was "lining up" the country so as to be able better to direct the various columns for his headquarters at El Valle. The general in the field declared in his message that the troops have settled down to the single task of "finding where Villa is." That Villa is sustaining his famous reputation as "the fox of the Sierras" is read between the lines of Pershing's reports.

Details of the operations about Namiquipa that concluded with the escape of Villa were not revealed, but there is little reason to believe that he was badly whipped or even weakened by the fighting directed against him by the de facto government troops.

Reports last week from Mexican sources indicated that he had been severely defeated by the Carranza forces and a few reports stated that American troops had participated in the action. It now appears that no Americans were actually engaged and the fact that Villa made his way through what was described as an encircling line of Mexican troops was taken to indicate that he was the victor.

Unless fresh Mexican forces are sent to meet Villa, there appears no reason why he should not make his way uninterrupted into the mountains of the Guadalupe district, towards which he appears to be moving.

MUCHLY MARRIED

Columbus, March 27.—Pending investigation of accusations that he is a bigamist, Robert Kirby, forty-four, former pastor of the First Baptist church in Cincinnati and now a salesman for a Dayton film company, is held by the local police. He was arrested at his home here. A few days ago a friend of Mrs. Sarah Kirby, the prisoner's first wife, who resides in Covington, Ky., with her daughter, Miss Lera Kirby, wrote Chief Carter asking him to locate and arrest Kirby. A photograph of the ex-preacher was attached. Kirby said he and his first wife, who is an invalid, separated three years ago, when they lived in Cincinnati. She formerly was Miss Sarah Razor, according to Kirby. The latter said he had been notified of the filing of a divorce suit against him, but that he paid no attention to it, and does not know whether a decree was granted his wife. While he still lived in Cincinnati, Kirby says, he met Miss Emma Branigan, whose former home was in Fort Worth, Tex. The couple went to Detroit and were married Aug. 14, 1915. They later came to Columbus. The second Mrs. Kirby operates a moving picture theater here.

"HELLO, OLD MAN!"

Uncle Eli's Fable

HOW THE MONKEYS PROGRESED.

A HUNTER was one day walking through the forest when a Monkey, who was perched on a limb of a palm tree, called down to him:

"Hello, old man! What are you doing here?"

"Is that you?" queried the man as he looked up. "I was just walking about to see if things were as I left them ten years ago."

"And do you see many signs of progress in that time?" asked the Monkey.

"Not one, and I am greatly disappointed."

"If you do not see any it is because you are nearsighted," said the Monkey as he wrapped his tail around the branch and revolved himself round and round it.

"Well, quit that foolishness and come to business. Speaking of progress, how have you monkeys progressed in the last ten years?"

"I will cheerfully explain. When you were here ten years ago it was to gather cocoanuts. The trees were too tall for you to climb, and you threw missiles at us to make us throw cocoanuts down at you. It was a sharp trick, and it made a fool of us monkeys for your great benefit."

"But don't you do it now?" asked the Hunter.

"No; we have got a better thing than that—a more progressive thing. Please throw a club up at me."

The Hunter did so with the utmost cheerfulness, and the Monkey seized a rock from the dozen he had carried up and deposited in a crack of the tree and hurled it down with such true aim that it struck the man in the stomach and gave him a solar plexus knockout. When he recovered consciousness it was to hear the Monkey say:

MORAL.

"Even the Monkey world cannot stand still. We had to throw puff balls to show that we were going backward, or we had to throw rocks to show that we were up to date and a little ahead."

The great, glorious, famous and infamous Forepaws and Hindpaws startling shows combined, which was scheduled to appear at the Y. M. C. A. in this city April 3rd to startle and delight the youngsters and tickle the oldsters has been postponed until April 10th, on account of one of the clowns and some of the other animals having the spring fever, the Wild Man from Borneo being afflicted with a boil, the Jabberwock refusing to perform, the Elephant losing its trunk and the remainder of the zooie folks requiring additional training before appearing in the season's opening stunts.

Secretary Patton, W. B. Rogers, and a few other old time circus men are bringing the great aggregation of tamed and untamed members of the menagerie together, are expecting to put on a number of new attractions when the show finally makes its appearance on the tenth.

SABINA TILE MILL BURNS TO GROUND

During an electrical storm Sunday evening about 6:45, lightning struck the Derbyshire tile works at Sabina, and the plant was entirely destroyed by fire, resulting in a loss of about $6,000, with no insurance.

The plant was owned by A. J. Darbyshire and only last week an insurance policy was cancelled because the company deemed the risk too great. $1,000 worth of hay had been removed from the place last week.

The fire made its appearance within a minute after the lightning had struck the building, and every part of the plant which could be consumed was reduced to ashes within a short time.

No. 107 on the B. & O. was near the tile plant when the bolt fell upon the plant, some of the passengers being badly frightened.
